A BRAVE SPANIARD.

Washington, May 4.—Don Vincente Montejó y Trillo, vice admiral, in command of the Spanish fleet in the Philippines, is known personally to a very few men in Washington. His reputation, however, is more widespread, and many of the attaches of foreign legations have great things to say today of the man who was vanquished only by the superior courage, seamanship and marksmanship of the American warriors. Admiral Montejó was forced to abandon his flagship, the splendid Reina Maria Christina, during the engagement. He went on board the Isla de Cuba, hoisted his flag there and gave up the battle only when every one of his fighting vessels had been either battered to pieces, burned or placed hors du combat. Europeans say Montejó has splendid courage, an excellent control of men, a high order of patriotism and a thorough knowledge of sea strategy. They say he is high-spirited, and that such a crushing defeat is received must be a severe blow to him, as his pride in his ships was equalled only by his supreme confidence in their ability to reckon well with any foe afloat. The vanquished admiral is mentioned as a man of few words, and to illustrate his taciturnity his report of his defeat is cited. While nobody here has any sympathy for Spain in her defeat at Manila, much is expressed for Montejó, who is admitted to be a higher type of Spaniard than the Weylers, De Lomas and others with whom America has had to deal in the past.

MANILA DEWEY'S TRAFALGAR

Indianapolis, May 1.—Admiral Geo. Brown speaks in the most enthusiastic terms of Commodore Dewey.

"Why," said the admiral, "I may say that I brought him up. I have known him since he entered the naval academy in 1854 or 1855. What a chance he had! But he was equal to it. The fight at Manila was his Trafalgar. More fortunate than Nelson, he will live to enjoy the honor he has won."

"The moral effect of this victory in Europe is almost incalculable. The demoralization to Spain cannot be computed. I do not think Blanco can now hold out a month in Cuba."

"I would have been greatly disappointed if Dewey had not accomplished everything he was sent to do. With line ships, with a splendid corps of officers, with as good fighting sailors as there are in the world, with modern guns, it was with me a foregone conclusion that Dewey would win."

CONGRATULATIONS.

London, May 4.—The Parliament members of parliament have sent the following dispatch to President McKinley:

"In the names of millions of Irishmen the Parliament members of the house of commons send you their congratulations on the brilliant victory of the American fleet."

SPAIN'S TROUBLES AT HOME.

Mobs Appear in All Her Larger Cities and Bloodshed and Riot Are Imminent.

THE PEOPLE WANT VENGEANCE.

Believed That the Disaster at Manila Was Due to Official Incompetence and Negligence; Perhaps to a Traitor.

SPAIN'S TROUBLES ARE ONLY BEGINNING.

Madrid, April 4.—Riots are reported from all the large cities in Spain. In many places bloodshed is imminent, for the mobs are in open revolt against the city authorities. None of the conflicts with the city or military authorities have yet been of a very serious nature, but the members of the government are greatly alarmed at the popular demonstrations.

REVOLUTION IMMINENT.

Madrid, May 4.—A mob has attacked the residence of Senor Morabito, and his life is in danger. Since the news of the Spanish fleet's defeat and rumors of the surrender of Manila have come, mobs have been collecting and the police are unable to control them. Martial law has been proclaimed, but with little effect. A heavy guard protects the government officials. A wholesale massacre is anticipated. A revolution is imminent.

During the night the mob attempted to gather in the Apollo Theater, but, after breaking the windows they were dispersed. Riots demonstrations are expected to break out at any moment, the people believing that Admiral Montejó was really betrayed by the authorities in Madrid.

SAGASTA STANDS PAT.

Madrid, May 1.—Premier Sagasta said in the Cortes yesterday that Spain will never surrender under any circumstances: that his government, Queen and people will push the war to its bitter end, and that Americans will be given no quarter at any point along the line.

SPAIN IS DESPERATE.

Madrid, May 4.—The cabinet declared yesterday that Spain will not listen to any suggestion of intervention from European powers until Spain has made a supreme effort in the Cuban waters. All the strength of the Spanish navy is to be massed immediately for one gigantic effort to crush American fleet in the Atlantic.

Gibraltar, May 4.—It was reported here last night that Martinez de Campos and Senor Moret, secretary of state for the colonies, have been assassinated.

A report also exists that Premier Sagasta has been stormed by a mob and was compelled to take refuge in the British embassy.

From a high official source comes the information that the situation in Madrid is exceedingly serious.

Not only is the city in a state of siege, but there have been rioting and firing in the streets.

The Carlists are exceedingly active and are sending out circulars to excite the Spanish people to a revolution.

GERMANY INTERESTED.

London, May 1.—Political complications are likely to ensue from Commander Dewey's victory. The possible American seizure of the Philippines has excited immense interest. Germany has long had a covetous eye upon these rich islands, while her interests have been a bar to any deal between Spain and Germany in relation to them. Japan also is known to eagerly desire these possessions.

Sir John Colomb, on this point said:

"It is an event of enormous international importance. I should not be surprised if the German Emperor was spurred to some startling action by the prospect of his dream of possession of the Philippines being shattered by the American triumph. He has a big squadron in China seas, with his brother in command, and we may hear some significant move on the part of that squadron within a day or two.

"I don't believe he can sit still in the face of such a blow to his most cherished hopes."

POST-OFFICE IN CUBA.

Washington, May 4.—The postmaster general has issued an order to establish postal service in the Cuban port first occupied by the United States, and appointed Eben Brewer, of Pittsburg, Pa., special agent of the department to organize the work. The service will cover not only the army mails for the troops ordered to Cuba, but business mail of the ordinary character for the territory temporarily under the authority of our army.

POSSIBLE SEA FIGHT.

Washington, May 4.—The navy department expects to hear at any moment today that the battleship Oregon and the Marietta will engage the Spanish torpedo boat Tormerico near Rio Janeiro. The Spanish vessel may not attack our vessels unless reinforcements are in sight, but it is thought our vessels may engage the Spanish fighter because of its threatening attitude toward American ships.

ENGLAND STANDS AMAZED.

Commodore Dewey's Bravery and Pluck Are on the Tongue of Every Englishman.

MANILA DEWEY'S TRAFALGAR.

The American Hero Is More Fortunate Than Even the Old English Hero, For He Lives to Enjoy His Honors.

IT WAS A HISTORY-MAKING BATTLE.

New York, May 4.—A dispatch to the World from London says:

England has been staggered by Commodore Dewey's overwhelming victory. The superiority of the United States squadron was recognized, but it was fully believed that it would have been more than counterbalanced by the assistance afforded the Spanish fleet by the sub-marine mines and shore batteries.

The splendid seamanship and valor of Commodore Dewey in forcing an entrance to Manila harbor in the face of these defenses excited intense admiration, while among naval experts the dispatch with which the American squadron disposed of the Spaniards is held to prove that Commodore Dewey employed the resources at his command with the highest possible amount of effectiveness.

Lord Charles Beresford said: "It was a brilliant stroke. Everything, as I have said before, depends upon the men in modern naval warfare."

VOLUNTEER TROOPS.

Washington, May 4.—The regulars and volunteers are to be immediately mobilized on the Pacific coast in case the troops are needed for the Philippines.

NEW MAJOR GENERALS.

Washington, May 4.—The president today appointed Fitzhugh Lee, Gen. Wilson, Congressman Wheeler, of Alabama, and Senator Sewell, of New Jersey, to be major generals.

AT LEXINGTON.

Frankfort, Ky., May 4.—General Collier stated today that the state militia will be mobilized at Lexington immediately company by company.

TO PREACH HERE.

Rev. B. O. Devers will have charge of the Second Baptist church during the absence of the pastor, Rev. Lloyd Wilson, who has gone to Norfolk to attend the Baptist convention.

THE NEXT NAVAL BATTLE.

It Will Probably Be With the Best Ships of the Spanish Navy at or Near Porto Rico.

SAMPSON'S FLEET HAS SAILED.

Left Havana Today for an Unknown Destination With His Entire Fleet—Looking for the Spanish Fleet.

IMPORTANT NEWS IS HOURLY EXPECTED.

Washington, May 4.—Admiral Sampson cables that he sailed this morning from Havana with his entire fleet. His destination is not given. But as he is acting under direct orders of the navy department it is very probable that he will go to meet the Spanish fleet. No one knows where the fleet is but it is supposed to be on its way to Porto Rico.

Washington, May 4.—The president and his advisors are looking for important news in the next few days. It may even be that the next development will be as important as the capture of Manila. The fleets of Admiral Sampson or Commodore Schley or of both are expected to engage the enemy in a few days.

A HARD FIGHT YET.

Washington, May 4.—The views of those who declare that Dewey's decisive victory had ended the war with Spain and that a collapse of the enemy's cause will follow soon, are not shared by the members of the administration.

President McKinley puts no faith in the view that the end of the war is in sight. He understands that Havana must be taken before the Spanish fleet can be destroyed. The president's advisors share the president's views in their expressed opinion that hard fights on land and sea will occur before peace is at hand.

THE NEXT BIG BATTLE.

Washington, May 4.—The next great battle of the war will probably be fought not at Havana, but on the high sea off the Atlantic coast, not later than Saturday. The vessels which will engage in it will probably be the Spanish flotilla, now believed to be on its way from Cape Verde islands, and a part of Sampson's squadron.

There is excellent authority for the statement that the administration believes that the Spanish men-of-war will appear at some port on the coast and attempt to retaliate for the loss of the Philippine Islands by doing as much damage as possible, and when this work has been completed, sail with all speed to Porto Rico, and, if necessary, fight their way to San Juan.

New York is considered in good condition to resist attack, but this is not the case with the New England cities and ports along the Southern coast.

It was to prevent Spanish privateers from ravaging the northeast coast that the cruisers Columbia and Minneapolis were sent to patrol duty there, and the mobilization of the northern patrol squadron at Provincetown is to have a force handy to resist an attack.

Instructions to the commanding officers of the auxiliary cruisers Yankee, Prairie, Dixie and Yosemite requires them to join the flagship San Francisco at Provincetown without delay.

ONE CRUSHING NAVAL BLOW.

London, May 4.—It is stated that the Spanish naval authorities have determined to avoid partial and isolated combats, but to nuke the naval strength and crush the American squadron in Cuban waters.

A dispatch from Cadix says that

The Spanish warships Pelayo, Alfonso and Victoria and several smaller craft are nearly ready for sea. Private advices, however, say that great difficulty is being experienced owing to lack of money. British engineers refuse to serve on board the vessels.

PAUNCEFOTE TO RETIRE.

London, May 4.—According to a report published here yesterday the British ambassador, Sir Julian Pauncefote, is to be succeeded by Sir Thomas H. Saunderson, K. C. B., K. C. M. G., the permanent under secretary of state for foreign affairs, one of the most experienced diplomatic officers in the British service.

FIRST CUBAN BRIGADE.

Tampa, Fla., May 4.—The first detachment of Cubans for Cuban volunteer service in the brigade forming here. There will be 5,000 in the brigade, and most of the volunteers have been secured without any effort on the part of the organizers. All that was necessary to secure the enlistment of the patriots to fight for the freedom of their people was the announcements posted here, and at Key West, saying the men were needed. This brigade will leave for Cuba as soon as transport can be secured for the men.

TO CRUSH SPAIN'S FLEET.

No Move to Be Made on Havana Until the Spanish Fleet Has Been Annihilated.

SHORT, SHARP AND DECISIVE

Is to Be the American Plan of the Campaign Against the Cuban Capital and General Blanco.

Washington, May 4.—Spain's fleet in the Atlantic must be annihilated before an attempt is made to capture Havana.

This was the conclusion arrived at by the war board, and it is probable that a naval engagement will be fought between the Spanish fleet now on its way across the Atlantic and the armored vessels of Admiral Sampson's command, re-enforced by Commodore Schley's flying squadron, before any steps are taken to land any army of invasion in the Island of Cuba.

The policy of the administration will be to make the campaign against Havana short, sharp and decisive. The order to do this an adequate land force must have the co-operation of all of the armored vessels that can be brought into service for the bombardment of Morro Castle and the other defenses of Havana harbor.

With Spain's fleet rapidly steaming westward, there would not be time to reduce Havana before that fleet must be met. It is also thought to be inadvisable to risk the disabling of any of the armored vessels at Admiral Sampson's command by the guns of Morro Castle before the fleet has been met. With this fleet once swept from the Atlantic Admiral Sampson could concentrate for the attack upon Havana an overwhelming force.

PROVES BLOCKADE'S POWER

Key West, May 4.—The effectiveness of the blockade was demonstrated at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, when the flagship overhauled the English tramp steamer Strathdee of Glasgow, and learned that she had been already twice boarded by boats from the Cassine and Nassville.

Her captain was most amiable, under the circumstances. He was from Progreso, Mexico, on his way to Sagua. The latter is not a blockaded port, but he will undoubtedly be held up again several times before he reaches there, as several of the squadron lie in his course.

DEWEY'S OFFICIAL REPORT.

His First Official Cable Is Being Received at Washington This Afternoon—It Is a Cipher Dispatch.

AMERICANS CONTROL MANILA.

The Report Confirms in Full the News of the Brilliant Victory Won by Dewey Last Sunday.

THE FUTURE OF THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

Washington, May 1, 3:50 p. m.—A member of the Foreign Relations Committee says he saw Dewey's report, and it says:

"Captured Manila; stars and stripes float over island. Glorious victory."

The government has ordered hospital ships sent from San Francisco to Manila immediately.

Washington, May 4.—Commodore Dewey's first official cipher cable is being received at Washington this afternoon. It may not be given to the public before tonight, as it will require some time for translation.

2:36 p. m.—The cipher dispatch from Commodore Dewey as this translated indicates that he and his warriors are in full possession of Manila and confirm the reports of the great American victory there Sunday.

DEWEY CONTROLS MANILA.

Washington, D. C., May 4.—A message received at the French legation states that at the request of the foreign consuls general, about 300 marines and 500 sailors would patrol the town and take measures for permanent municipal tranquility. The Spaniards had told such incredible tales of the ferocity of the Americans that the people of Manila were frightened almost to death. The consuls general caused the Roman Catholic Archbishop to issue a proclamation, saying that the inhabitants would be in no sort of personal danger should the city be taken. This quieted the town to a great degree.

"KEEP MANILA."

New York, May 4.—The Sun, yesterday morning, prints the following leading editorial:

"Today the United States are living among an entirely different set of facts from that surrounding them when our fathers dreamed of living forever in comparative isolation, internationally undisturbed. A nation's power in the world at large, upon which rests to a great extent its trade, is itself now founded upon coal, and coal without an established source of supply where it is needed is always uncertain, and hence a factor of weakness."

"The Philippine Islands, through Spain's choice of war, are the rightful property of the United States, either in whole, or, at least, in such part as may be necessary to give the base of supply that we require in Asiatic waters. Their conquest will be regarded as a new departure in American politics, but in the lead of modern developments, in which our destiny, like that of other countries, is wrapped in mystery, it is at the threshold of statesmanship."

"The Stars and Stripes should henceforth float forever from the Philippines."

APPROPRIATIONS ASKED.

Washington, May 1.—The secretary of the Navy has sent to secretary of the treasury for transmission to congress, to be included in the urgent deficiency bill, estimates of appropriations required by the navy department to complete the service of the current fiscal year, and the next fiscal year ending June 30, 1899, amounting to $18,170,000. This is in addition to the $35,019,598 asked for last week by the secretary of war. The items specified are as follows:

Coast signal system, etc., $75,000; equipment of vessels, including coal, etc., $1,000,000; steam machinery, labor and material for repairing vessels, etc., $1,245,000; construction and repair of vessels, etc., $1,500,000; ordnance and ordnance stores, etc., $400,000; for purchase of contingent stores, transportation of supplies, etc., $898,500,000; same for 1899, $200,000; provisions, labor, pay offices, etc., 1898, $1,000,000; same for 1899, $5,000,000.

For keeping vessels attached to Asiatic squadron provisioned and stored, the transportation of which the secretary says will "probably necessitate at least the charter and possibly the purchase of a number of suitable vessels, also to increase the number of small craft attached to the various squadrons, or to replace such as may be disabled, and to meet contingencies that cannot be foreseen, $10,000,000. Total, $18,170,000. This estimate will be sent to congress at once.

FAMINE INVADES HAVANA.

Terrible Effects of the American Blockade Are Visible—The People Are Suffering From Starvation.

PREPARING TO GO TO CUBA.

Preparations Being Rushed Today at Key West for the Invasion of Cuba, Which Begins This Week.

CUBAN REGIMENTS FORMED FOR CUBA.

Key West, May 4.—The captains of the captured Spanish vessels lying here in port, say that the people of Havana are already feeling the terrible effects of the blockade, and that starvation even now shares them in the face. They say that the people can not hold out much longer without additional supplies.

The country around Havana is devastated and the people must get all their provisions by way of the sea.

NO IDEA OF SURRENDER.

London, May 4.—It is announced in a special dispatch from Madrid that there is no idea of surrender there, either in ministerial circles or among the populace. On the contrary, it is added that the war is to be pursued with greater vigor.

The special dispatch adds that it is even stated at Madrid, by those who are responsible for the naval movements, that it has been determined to avoid isolated combats on unusual terms and with a superior enemy, and that they now intend to throw the whole united naval strength of Spain into one supreme effort to crush the American squadron in Cuban waters. Continuing, the special says: "Proposal for intervention will be listened to."
